

Most of the time when I am driving across country XM RADIO is my only companion. Out WEST there are a lot of dead areas, with no signals, and if there is they are usually not worth listening to. The weather channel is especially helpful and is good source of adding to the safety of travel.

Don't even think of taking it off the air!!

Please reject NAB's petition 04-160

John J. Kent